Regional management offices

The task of the regional management (RM) unit is to promote regional development at an economic, social and cultural level.

Each provincial district has got its own regional management office which is therefore the first point of contact for project ideas and implementation. The regional managers advise municipalities, businesses and regional project groups. The objectives include the construction and advising of B2B-cooperation projects, as well as inter-municipal and cross-border regional projects, plus the securing of partners from the economy, agriculture and tourism in order to achieve sustainable economic development for the
